
Designated 2002

Built in 1951 during the era of racial segregation, this was the only post-secondary school built in Montgomery County for black students. It was a High School by day and a Junior College at night. The brick building is a good example of modern architecture, with its combination of building blocks, long and low profile, metal strip windows, and decorative brickwork at the corners.

CITY OF ROCKVILLE
COMMUNITY PLANNING
AND DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

Carver High School
850 Hungerford Drive

N
W E
S