Sec. 13.5-5. Requirement.

- (a) Any applicant, in order to obtain a building permit must submit to the Division of [Licenses and] Inspection Services, with the application of a permit, a written MPDU agreement approved by the Mayor and Council and by the City Attorney that provides the required number of moderately priced dwelling units.
- (b) Except as provided herein, the required number of MPDU's shall equal twelve and one-half (12.5) percent of the total units in the development.
- (c) When the development at one (1) location is in any zone which provides for an MPDU density bonus and (1) is covered by a plan of subdivision, or (2) is covered by a [special development procedure or a use permit] site plan approval, or (3) requires a building permit to be issued for construction, the required number of moderately priced dwelling units is a variable percentage that is not less than twelve and one-half (12.5) percent of the total number of dwelling units at that location. Except as specified in subsections (c) and (d), the required number of MPDU's shall vary according to the amount by which the approved development exceeds the normal or standard density for the zone in which it is located. Chapter 25 permits bonus densities in certain zones over the presumed base density where MPDU's are provided. If the use of the optional MPDU development standards does not result in an increase over the base density, the City Manager shall conclude that the base density could not be achieved under conventional development standards, in which case the required number of MPDU's shall not be less than twelve and one-half (12.5) percent of the total number of units in the subdivision. The amount of density bonus achieved in the approved development determines the percentage of total unit that must be MPDU's as follows:

TABLE INSET:

Achieved Density Bonus	MPDU's Required
Zero	12.5%
Up to 1%	12.6%

(d) In [p]Planned [d]Development [z]Zones, [(Planned Residential Unit, Residential Townhouse and Comprehensive Planned Development)] the number of MPDU's shall not be less than either the number of density bonus units or twelve and one-half (12.5) percent of the total number of units, whichever is greater. In addition, in approving [an exploratory application for a Planned Residential Unit (PRU) for] the redevelopment of an existing public housing project, the Mayor and Council may authorize up to the same number of units that existed in the public housing project before redevelopment.

Sec. 13.5-6. Zoning provisions; waiver of requirements.

(a) Zoning provisions. The Mayor and Council, to assist in providing moderately priced housing has enacted zoning standards in Chapter 25, establishing procedures and standards which may increase the allowable number of residential dwelling units. If the applicant elects the optional density provisions, permitting the construction of an increased number of dwelling units, the requisite percentage and number of MPDU's shall apply to the total number of dwelling units as increased by application of the optional density provisions that increases the density above the otherwise permitted density of the zoning classification in which the property is situated.

- (b) Waiver of requirements. Any applicant who presents sufficient evidence to the Mayor and Council in applying for a building permit, or in submitting a preliminary plan of subdivision for approval or requesting [use permit] site plan or project plan approval, may be granted a waiver from part or all of section 13.5-5. The waiver must be related only to the number of MPDU's to be built and may be granted only if the Mayor and Council, after consulting with the Department, finds that the applicant cannot attain the full density of the zone, because of any requirements of the zoning ordinance or the administration of other laws or regulations. When any part of the land that dwelling units cannot be built on for physical reasons is used to compute permitted density, the applicant's inability to use the optional density bonus provisions is not in itself grounds for waiving the MPDU requirements. Any waiver must be strictly construed and limited.

rate rental [multiple-family units] multiple-unit dwellings to all market rate [multiple-family units] multiple-unit dwellings.
